

About Judy Chen

Judy Chen, MPA, is the Director of Strategic Initiatives at the Washington State Coalition Against Domestic Violence. She started working in the anti-violence movement in 1996. Most recently, she created and led WSCADV's management and leadership project, including its New Directors leadership program and the People of Color and Native People's Leadership Academy. A former E.D., Judy trains on organizational development, survivor-driven advocacy, and multi-cultural programming, as well as supervision, money, and change. In her current role, Judy provides leadership support to WSCADV's cutting edge initiatives and writes grants. Judy has helped start several nonprofits, and coached for the University of Washington School of Public Policy and Governance. Her volunteer work includes the Out in Front LGBTQ leadership program and her son's school PTA.
